

A 70-year-old female suddenly develops slurred speech, right-sided weakness, and difficulty understanding others. Her blood pressure is significantly elevated.